HITCHHIKER DRAWS 40-YEAR PENALTY IN ROBBERY BY ASSAULT CASE

A session of District Court for Medina County was called at 10 A.
M. here Thursday, May 2nd, and the Grand Jury for the January term re-assembled, for the purpose of considering the alleged attempted murder and robbery of a traveler by a man whom he had befriended. The Grand Jury returned an indictment of robbery by assault against Cecil Edward Griffith, an ex-convict with three prison, one State and two Federal, sentences already completed.
The Court appointed Attorney Francis C. Richter to represent the defendant, while District Attorney R. J. Noonan was State's prosecutor. The defendant entered a plea of guilty and waived the right of a trial by jury. Donald H. Olsen of California testified against his assailant. Judge K. K. Woodley sentenced Griffith to 40 years in the State penitentiary and the prisoner was turned over to Sheriff Jack M. Fusselman to be taken to Huntsville.
Griffith's crime was a peculiarly atrocious one. Hitchhiking a ride with Olsen, enroute from California to New Orleans, he attacked him near D'Hanis choking and beating him with his fists while declaring his intention to kill him.
Leaving him beaten into helplessness, taking his watch and $138.00 in money he drove away in Olsen's car. For some reason he set the car on fire about a mile west of Hondo creek bridge. Two ladies passing at the time picked him up, brought him into Hondo, where Night Watchman Walter Mc-Clougherty contacted him and heard a hard luck story that his car had burned up. Mr. McClougherty engaged a hotel room for him for the night, as Sheriff Fusselman had no grounds for holding him.
Soon thereafter word came from D'Hanis of the finding of the injured man and a description of Olsen's car and of his assailant identified Griffith as the man.
When sought at the hotel it was found that he had left hurriedly.
Sheriff Fusselman engaged the help of officers in both directions.
About 10 o'clock Sunday morning border patrolmen pulled him off a freight train passing through Del Rio. On receiving notice, Mr. Fusselman hurried to Del Rio, brought him to Hondo and lodged him in jail.
Cecil Griffith admitted his guilt and boasted of having served time in several prisons. He hails from Albion, Ohio.
Olsen's money and watch were returned to him. His car, however, is a complete loss. At the hospital, though severely bruised, he recovered satisfactorily and was able to appear in court Thursday morning.
The Grand Jury, empaneled for the January term, re-assembled when all members appeared except James C. Finger. James Amberson was summoned as a substitute and took the oath as a Grand Juror.
Other members were Eric Rothe,
C. Gilliam, Archie F. Jagge, George
O. Heilman, E. A. Bendele, Henry
Z. Windrow, C. R. Haby, W. W.
Wernette, O. K. Schmidt, Elmer J.
Leinweber, and Chas. B. Langfeld.
Two civil cases were dismissed during the session of Court Thursday morning and one tax suit disposed of. The case of Grace T.
Leighton vs. Winnifred McDowell, trespass to try title, was dismissed at cost of the plaintiff. The dispossession case of Bessie Lena McDonald vs. L. B. McDonald, was also dismissed. Judgment was for the plaintiff, the Bexar-Medina-Atascusa Water Improvement District
No. 1, as per decree and for impleaded defendant State of Texas as per decree, in a suit against Hagelstein Properties, Inc., suit on Water and Maintenance and State, County and School Tax.

Major Pennington extended a cordial invitation to everyone "to drop

In commenting on the Air Corps, he stated, "A successful career is not a matter of luck. It requires careful preparation in a carefully that field and the finest kind of basic experience in it. The Army Air Forces provides young men with these opportunities. Thorough courses

COUNTY TO BENEFIT BY MONEY SPENT ON RURAL REPAIR JOBS
Expenditures totaling more than $185,000 will be made in the next few years by home owners on farms and in small communities of Medina County to improve present electric service and home plumbing.
These outlays will mean additional income to practically every local business and will finance additional wire-ing, bathroom improvements and new electrical equipment for the county's 1,651 farm and rural homes already served with electricity, according to a study released by the Tile Council of America.
Introduction of running water, installation of tiled bathrooms and replacement of out-moded plumbing fixtures head the list of most wanted farm home features, D. P. Forst, chairman of the Council's Residential Construction Committee, revealed. One in five farm families throughout the nation plan bathroom improvements, he said.
Additional wiring is needed in practically every farm home with electricity, according to the study. A huge market likewise exists for milking machines, quick freezing units, electric motors, baby chick brooders and other equipment.
Expenditures in the county are part of a $94,617,000 program to be undertaken by Texan farm and rural home owners in the next five years, the study revealed. An estimated $2,294,900,000 on similar improvements to present electric service will be spent in the nation during that time.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

THOMAS FORCES RETAIN CONTROL OF AUTO UNION

WASHINGTON.—A revolution in union labor organization is being frequently predicted—but it may be a long time coming true.

As an aftermath of the Reuther-Thomas contest for control among the auto workers, reports have sprung up that Walter Reuther (CIO) is hobnobbing with Dave Dubinsky (AFL) with a view to bringing the auto workers into the AFL. A co-related rumor has John Lewis, the puffing mine boss, taking hold of AFL with his dominating character, shunting William Green aside, in anticipation of developing one big union in AFL and trimming the CIO.

The facts involved in the report are more apparent than real. Reuther is a socialist.

It is true enough he won what might be superficial "control" of the UAW in the recent convention—but it is a control so definitely limited he cannot exercise it much. He won the presidency, ousting Thomas, but the forces behind

Thomas

Thomas packed the executive committee against Reuther by a margin, which his superior sources inside labor calculate at 13 to 9. In the Thomas majority are labor politicians who run the gamut from conservatism to communism—and do not for a moment doubt the presence of the communists.

UNION MEMBERS OPPOSED COMMUNISTIC PROGRAM

Their obnoxious practices for Thomas at the convention, caused Reuther's election. Most UAW delegates did not care much about ousting Thomas, at least a plain majority did not, until the communists became so active in behalf of Thomas. The communies made it easier for Reuther to get the presidency, because the majority in the union has a particular distaste for its own communist element—when, in specific cases, like this one, it can see plainly what they are doing, although in cases outside the union, involving domestic and international affairs the majority is frequently misled by its communist minority.

But Lewis, since his return to the AFL executive committee, has not been doing anything about this or other labor revolution matters. Indeed, he has made no move against Green, or to assert his bulk, or any move whatsoever. Lewis is not a socialist Dubinsky, like Reuther, is, although this fact is little known. (Most labor people count Dubinsky as a Republican in view of its strong political resistance to CIO and the communists.) Lewis is a free enterpriser man who believes the greater the profits, the greater the wage. The best labor authorities doubt that he will try to fold his massive wing over the Reuther-Dubinsky hobnobbers. Indeed if the Thomas faction of UAW could purge itself of the communists, it might expect to do more business with Lewis than the Reuther-Dubinsky faction—granting that Lewis does assert himself in AFL when his coal strike is over and other amusements to occupy his time, are lacking.

The inner lineup of union politics is such, therefore, that a split in CIO is likely, and half of it or more may eventually go to AFL, but certainly not the communist part, and possibly not the socialist wingers.

Also not the Hillman part. Here the split runs wider and deeper. Sidney Hillman is a socialist, but of somewhat the French kind which is currently playing ball with the communists on political issues facing the nation and world.

CIO President Phillip Murray is actually being faced with an inner revolt by these leftist groups. Lately Hillman has been very quiet, running his political action groups, and letting Murray handle the strike campaigns, which, incidentally, have done little to increase his prestige. Murray is a former protégé of Lewis, who brought him up, and a Catholic.

You can see plainly then that hi-politics of the unions is loading itself up with dynamite—or explosive atomic energy—but no one can yet guess in which direction.

Railroads Demand 25% Higher Rates

Rail Unions Renew Wage Bid As Carriers Ask for Rate Hike; Move to Spread Meat Supply

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

RAILROAD PAY: Seek More

Despite an arbitration board's recent award of 16 cents an hour to 1,050,000 non-operating employees, the railroad industry was headed for another labor crisis with 15 unions petitioning for an additional 14 cents an hour boost. Non-operating employees include telegraphers, clerks, machinists, boilermakers, electricians and maintenance workers.

In asking for an extra 14 cents to bring over-all increases to 30 cents an hour, the unions charged that the recent award only equaled wartime grants given to employees in other industries and an extra boost would have to be given to compensate for general postwar raises of 18½ cents an hour.

Ask Freight Hike

Even as the non-operating unions asked for an additional 14-cent-an-hour wage raise, the nation's carriers sought a 25 per cent increase in freight rates, with certain exceptions, to cover higher operating and labor costs. At the same time, the railroads requested continuation of the wartime passenger fare boost of 10 per cent.

Despite increased annual expenses of almost 2 billion dollars and a sharp slump in postwar traffic, present rates are at the prewar level, the carriers pointed out. Of the mounting costs, 1 billion, 355 million dollars represent wartime pay raises, and a half billion dollars increases in prices of materials and supplies.

Exclusive of any wage awards to the three operating brotherhoods, the recent 16-cent-an-hour grant given to 17 other railroad unions will add 619 million dollars to this year's operating costs, the carriers said.

month from the wartime rate of $76.50 and the prewar payment of $72. Substantial wage increases also were announced for the higher grades. Besides the regular force, the dominion will maintain a reserve force of six divisions of one month's training each year and a supplementary reserve branch.

FOOD: U. S. Acts

Seeking to channel more meat into major packing centers and relieve the tight supply situation in big cities, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson announced government restoration of wartime slaughter quotas in a "share the livestock" program.

Re-establishment of butchering quotas followed small operators' draining of meat animals from stock yards at prices major packers could not meet without violating OPA ceilings. Purchase of cattle for shipment on high bidding pointed up the menace of the black market, with private trade sources asserting the majority of meat being sold was at illegal prices and OPA officials contesting the charge.

The heavy drain of small operators on regular market sources was indicated by the rise in licensed slaughterers from 1,400 in 1939 to 26,000 in 1946. Normally dominant in the big Chicago stockyards, Swift, Armour and Wilson were able to

Bowles and Anderson

Bearing placards, women representatives of the national emergency committee for price control besieged Washington to press congressmen for extension of OPA. In all, 800 women invaded capital to lobby for continuation of agency.

BRITAIN: Lure for Army

Matching U. S. efforts to maintain a strong military force through voluntary recruitment, Britain offered substantial bonuses to enlistees while Canada announced an increased scale of pay for regular army personnel.

As the Labor government still remained silent on postwar conscription plans, Prime Minister Attlee declared 187,000 volunteers were needed and a $100 bonus will be paid immediately to enlistees, with another $100 for each of three or four years of service. In addition, each recruit will be given $52 or a suit of clothes upon completion of his duty.

With Canada planning an active postwar army of 25,000 men, basic pay and subsistence allowance for privates was increased to $95 a meet only a fraction of their needs, with Swift purchases for one week totaling 270 head compared with 4,103 for the same period last year.

While the restoration of slaughter quotas will not increase the total supply of meat, it is designed to promote more equitable distribution.

TOBACCO TAX:

State cigarette and tobacco tax revenue for 1945 totaled $164,200,000, an increase of 8.3 per cent over 1944, with the spurt in sales following the end of the war and the imposition of higher tax rates in some states listed as the reasons for the increase in revenue.

A rise of 11.9 per cent in federal tobacco tax collections for the year was also reported. The federal revenue from this source in 1945 totaled $937,200,000.

PRODUCTION: Higher and Higher

Checking back on production figures, the office of war mobilization and reconversion reported that the nation's output for the first quarter of 1946 was even higher than at first estimated despite a lag in the hard goods and textile industries.

Whereas the OWMR computed production at an annual rate of 150 billion dollars, it hiked its figure to 154 billion dollars and added that the estimate might be even higher when all reports are in. Even at 150 billion dollars, the estimated rate tops all previous peacetime marks.

In reviewing the bright production picture, the OWMR declared:

- Farm production should be 13 to 15 per cent above 1941 with good weather.
- The tire, washing machine, power, gas, oil, steel, aluminum and magnesium industries are operating far above prewar levels.
- Rate of production of radios, vacuum cleaners, electric irons and bicycles is rapidly approaching the peacetime figure.

Nations Must Submerge Sovereignty for Peace

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

HUNTER COLLEGE, THE BRONX, N. Y.—These notes are being jotted down in the basement of a room that once sounded to the dull staccato-thud of rubber-soled gym shoes as the girls came tripping downstairs from the floor above to scamper into the showers, pull on their bobby socks and other strange accoutrements which distinguish the modern female collegiate.

Is the United Nations really going to get anywhere?

First, let me admit that as I write we are walking a tight-rope stretched between two crises, either of which might wreck us or might be forgotten by the time these lines reach the printed page.

And, of course, the rock upon which the United Nations may flounder is the veto. Most people don't understand the veto. Briefly, it is the right of any of the Big Powers, the permanent members of the executive council, to say "no" to the discussion of any matter which said power doesn't want raised.

Power Politics Still in Force

In other words "power politics" is still in force and the only advance we have made is that compromise, which is the basis of all democratic action—is the only possible solution of controversial questions. The undemocratic alternative is the use of power, which in this case may be exercised without the will of the majority. The right of the veto is, as was brought out in a recent University of Chicago round-table discussion, really the insistence on the expression of national sovereignty; the sovereign right of a nation, if it gets mad enough, to promulgate the organized savagery of war.

We can, it is true, never hope for any permanent peace until we are willing to yield that sovereignty to a higher authority which expresses the will of the majority of all peoples.

The United Nations at present has not been granted that authority.

But there is hope which I have watched grow as international proceedings move forward under the impetus of a will to peace and the implementation of ever-growing publicity which creates the understanding to bolster that will—It is this: as the United Nations continues to discuss those matters which are not affected by the veto, as it deals with social and economic problems, as it plans to do, such a strong public sentiment can be built up behind it that nationalistic world-minorities cannot stand up against it.

There is that hope. There is another. Atomic energy.

As Chairman Corbett of the department of political science of Yale university put it:

"When it comes to that . . . (control of atomic energy) . . . I think that the discrepancy between the legal situation in the UN (he refers to the power of the veto and the nationalistic insistence on sovereignty) and the actual needs of international collaboration are going to become so glaring that we are going to have to make a direct attack upon this problem of the veto."

The key word to that remark is "glaring." The "needs of international collaboration" must glare in the light of pitiless publicity. The light of understanding must be shed upon the truths of what another war will mean and it must be more than light. Heat must be generated until the glare becomes incandescence. World sentiment must rise to the degree at which it creates the energy necessary to bring action.

Peace must become dynamic.

TIME TO 'PLAY BALL'

Great Ball Season Seen

Returned Vets
Add Color to Nat'l Game

By AL JEDLIKA

WNU Features.

"Play ball!" And the crack of the bat again thrills Americans the nation over as the 1946 season gets under way.

While softball, football, basketball and golf have challenged baseball for youth's attentions in recent years, the game still ranks as the No. 1 sports spectacle, an enjoyable outdoor relaxation for the fans. Last year, approximately 15 million persons paid to watch major and minor league ball, and with most of the big stars returning from the war this season attendance should be equally great or greater.

Nineteen hundred and forty-six may be a memorable year for another reason, too, for it marks the introduction of baseball on a big-time professional basis in Mexico. Following an old American custom, President Avila Camacho tossed out the first ball at the Mexican league's first game in which the Vera Cruz Blues walloped the Mexico City Reds 12 to 5 before an overflow crowd of 33,000 in Mexico City.

In the U. S., chief interest again will center on the major league races, though the return of topnotch performers from the services and continued postwar prosperity should herald a banner minor league season.

It'll be like old times again in the American league with the New York Yankee sluggers back in there, denting the fences. But because of an average pitching staff, Joe McCarthy's aggregation will be hit .331 before joining the navy in 1943, and Bobby Doerr, who rung up a .325 average prior to his induction in the army in 1944.

In pitchers Tex Hughson and Big Boo Ferris, Manager Cronin appears to have two sure-fire 15 to 20 game winners, while Mickey Harris, Jim Bagby and Jim Wilson are expected to develop into grade A moundsmen.

Nosed out of the American league pennant by a single game in 1945, the Washington Senators will be back knocking at the door again this year if their knuckle-balling pitching staff stands up under the six-month strain, and the boys can stir up enough punch to help out hard-hitting Jeff Heath, Stan Spence, Buddy Lewis and Cecil Travis.

Head of the Senators knuckleballers is 36-year-old Emil ("Dutch") Leonard, vet of 13 long seasons of play who chalked up 17 victories in 1945 against 7 losses and possessed an earned run average of 2.13 per game. The other so-called "flutter-ballers" are Roger Wolff, who turned in 20 wins last year, Marino Pieretti, with 14, and Johnny Niggeling, much stronger than in 1945, following the removal of ulcers.

Others Have a Chance.

While Cleveland, St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia have been counted out of the American League pennant race, they may, with lots of luck, crowd into the first division. Because of a strong pitching staff headed by the sensational Bobby Feller, fresh from the navy, Cleveland stands the best chance of breaking into the select four, while 83-year-old Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics appear headed for the cellar despite the presence of Russ Christopher and Dick ("No Hit") Fowler on the pitching staff.

Profiting again from their extensive farm club system, the St. Louis Cardinals are the ruling favorites to take National league honors away from the Chicago Cubs. The Brooklyn Dodgers, New York Giants and Boston Braves also are highly touted, while the Pittsburgh Pirates may well develop into the dark-horses of the race.

Few new major league managers have stepped into the gold-mine Eddie Dyer has in his first year as the St. Louis Cardinals' manager. He succeeds Billy Southworth, who has taken up the reins of the Boston Braves.

In his regular outfield, the lucky Mr. Dyer intends to start Stan Musial, who hit .347 before entering the navy in 1944; Terry Moore, the fielding genius who hit .288 prior to his induction into service in 1942, and Enos Slaughter, who batted .318 before joining the air force the same year.

Star performers in the infield include the great Marty Marion, wide-ranging shortstop, and Whitey Kurowski, slugging third baseman, who hit .323 and batted in 102 runs last year.

Mighty Mound Staff.

Among Dyer's ranking pitchers are Red Barrett, who won 23 games last time out; Johnny Beazley, 21; Max Lanier, 17, and Harry Brecheen, 15.

While Charley Grimm has none of this kind of talent in Chicago, he does have a hustling ball club to work behind a winning mound staff headed by big Hank Borowy, who helped pitch the Cubs into a pennant after being secured from the Yankees last year; Claude Passeau, who won 17 games in 1945 despite an ailing right arm; Hank Wyse, who turned in 22 victories in spite of a sore back, and Hi Bithorn, who chalked up 18 wins in 1943 before entering the navy.

The National League's champion batsman in 1945 with a .355 mark, Phil Cavarretta, will be back at first to pace the Cubs' attack, with help forthcoming from the veteran Stanley Hack at third, who hit .323 in his 12th season as a Bruin last year; little "Peanuts" Lowrey, Andy Pafko and — Grimm hopes — Big Bill Nicholson, who flopped to .243 last year.

Led by the irrepressible Leo ("The Lip") Durocher, who won fame as one of the toughest of the "Gas House Gang" at St. Louis in the thirties, the Brooklyn Dodgers are figured to be right up in the thick of the National league race.

"The Lip" enters the pennant run with a fair country outfield in Pete Reiser, who hit .310 before joining the army in 1942; Goody Rosen, who batted .325 last year; the veteran Dixie Walker, and rookie Gene Hermanski. In the infield, Billy Herman and Pee-wee Reese make a winning combination around second. While none too strong, the pitching staff is built around fire-balling Kirby Higbe, Hugh Casey, Ed Head and Vic Lombardi.

Giants Still Powerful.

The New York Giants, while not the hated and feared aggregation of the John McGraw or Bill Terry days, nonetheless is expected to cut a figure in this year's race. No defensive geniuses, the Giants do possess power, with Manager Mel Ott, who hit .308 last year, in right; Johnny Mize, .305, at first; Mickey Witte, .314, at third, and Walker Cooper, .317, behind the plate.

Ability of brainy Billy Southworth to spur the Boston Braves to give SMILING . . . New York Giants Bob Blattner, second base, and Bill Rigney, shortstop, have the old spirit.

all they have largely accounts for the high esteem in which the team has been held this year.

The Braves do have the nucleus for a winner with big Mort Cooper, who won 65 games for Southworth in three years for the Cards, on the hill, and slugging Tommy Holmes, Max West and Johnny Hopp in the outfield.

Pittsburgh's Pirates, rated none too highly in the early doping, could easily develop into the dark-horse of the 1946 season. In shortstop Bill Cox and outfielder Ralph Kiner, Manager Frisch has come up with two prize prospects to go along with established performers like Bob Elliott in the outfield and Elbie Fletcher and Babe Dahlgren in the infield. With Lefties Ostermueller, Willie and Roe and right-handers Sewell, Gables, Heintzelman and Klinger, the Pirates should get good pitching.

Quoted at 30 to 1 longshots in early betting to win the National league gonfalon, the Cincinnati Reds and Philadelphia Phillies do not figure in the running.

ARMY DISCHARGEES

Four army dischargees in a fan-faring bee with the Pittsburgh Pirates' doctor. They are, left to right, Ken Heintzelman, Charles A. Jorgenson (the doc), Russ Bauers, Bill Clemensen and Cadis Swigart. Every big league team has its share of ex-servicemen in the starting lineups.

Boston has Tex Hughson, Johnny Pesky and Dom DiMaggio back, for instance. The Washington Senators number Buddy Lewis, Cecil Travis, and Al Evans among their vets.

The President and Horseshoe Pitching

President Truman has decided to build a horseshoe pitching court on the White House grounds. This should make America feel better. Much of the trouble that the world is in today is due to the fact few, if any, rulers have been horseshoe pitchers.

There is something about horseshoe pitching that keeps a man cool, eases his nerves and lessens the chances of his doing anything cock-eyed. We had a few horseshoe pitchers among our earliest Presidents, and their administrators were the most peaceful in history.

Perhaps in these troubled times of irascibility, frenzied disputes, hair-trigger decisions, impatience, with the other fellow's viewpoint and the itch to settle everything overnight, horseshoe pitching may save civilization!

Had Adolf Hitler ever gone in for pitching horseshoes the yen to conquer the world would never have developed. In your wildest dreams can you picture Mussolini fooling around with a horseshoe?

On with the horseshoe stuff, Harry! You're no genius in statesmanship. You are not the wisest ruler of the day. But nevertheless when the atomic bomb crisis agitates the great men of the earth, when potentates on all sides are shouting at one another and when so many big men have so many hot ideas for causing trouble, it will be good to know that you spend a little time each day out behind the White House pitching horseshoes.

Circus Memories

The circus is back in New York, and thousands of big city kids will be thrilled no end. But we pity the kid who never knew the circus in a small town. Back home in our boyhood it was the event of the year. The first flush of posters on the billboards kindled our imagination. . . . we were sleepless for nights before the great day . . . and we were up at 3:30 a. m. the morning the big show arrived. . . . It was always unloaded in the freight yards down at Long Wharf off Water street, and what a thrill it was to hear the locomotive whistles and then see the circus trains pull in, unload and start on the five-mile trek to the circus grounds, which used to be in Elm City park back of the Hubinger mansion.

After the unloading had progressed an hour or so, we hustled to the grounds to see the tents go up. . . . The rat-tat-tat of the stake-driving crews . . . the rumble of the wagon wheels . . . the smell of tannin and hay . . . the aroma of lamb chops and boiled potatoes from the cook-tent . . . oh, boy! We generally managed to get a job leading a pony in a parade and got a free pass to the show.

The "O" has been knocked out of "UNO," which now becomes officially "U.N.," which makes it sound like an Indian grunt. Now if they would only take the "N" out it seems to us it would personalize its message tremendously.

A head of the Mexican baseball league threatens to complain to the American ambassador about an American baseball player who has quit the league. The matter may get before the United Nations security council. Which is a fine idea. It would give the organization terrific press notices, especially if any delegate walked out.

General MacArthur recommends that the Japanese adopt the A.B.C. alphabet. The Japs are satisfied that they were nuts to stage the recent war and they may be ready to admit that the Jap alphabet drove them crazy.

But we still doubt that the Japs will seem any less warlike because they spell, "Does the cat see the rat?" our way.

Soon we shall be hearing of the worthy citizen who started life on a shoestring and ultimately acquired a furnished room.

"What do they think I am?" . . . His squawks are terrifying, oh, They can be heard a mile— But at the race track he will stand And take it with a smile.

The old league of Nations is now closing in Switzerland. It is surprising everybody by a display of firmness in this procedure.

strongly pressed for pennant honors by the champion Detroit Tigers, Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators.

Yanks Have Sluggers.

Indicative of the dynamite in the Yankee bats, DiMaggio hit .305 in his last season out, Keller .301, Starnweiss .309, and Dickey .351. Though falling below the .300 mark, the other regulars have that explosive Yankee touch in the pinch.

While the New Yorkers are long on power and short on pitching, the Detroit Tigers have strength in both departments and may well repeat their 1945 league triumph. A .311 slugger in 78 games last year after his discharge from the army, Hank Greenberg will be at first this season, with hard-hitting Pinky Higgins back at third and Barney McCosky, Dick Wakefield and Pat Mullin in a youthful, brilliant outfield.

But the Tigers' real strength lies on the mound, with lanky Hal Newhouser, who won 25 games in 1945 while dropping only 9, heading the staff. In addition, Manager Steve O'Neill has Dizzy Trout, an 18-game winner last year; Virgil Trucks, Stuffy Overmire, Al Benton and Ruff Gentry.

Because of all-around balance, many of the major league scribes like the Boston Red Sox chances in 1946.

Williams Sparks Red Sox.

Training for Victory

By Rufus T. Stroh

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WITHOUT machine tools there would be no war of the present type. Without skilled men to build and operate machines there could be no war like the one that engulfs the world.

War-production labor must be 40 per cent skilled, 35 per cent semi-skilled and 25 per cent unskilled.

Industry is straining every hour of the day and night to provide the manpower that must support the men in the armed branches of service. It must be repeated time and again that the best training is training on the job in the plant.

There is little time to train skilled workmen. Management has instituted all types of training programs, many of them brought out and dusted off after they have been experimented with in the years before the war.

Time is of the essence. Speed is the cry of management. But when all has been said and done, the individual must provide the answer.

The American workman of his own volition and free will must provide the answer. He can be drafted into labor, enticed from one job to another, but he must have the ambition and the energy to train himself. Management can offer all the inducements known to mankind, but it is the worker who must make the final decision.

The most important job of all, right now, is for every man and woman engaged in an industrial capacity to learn to function at his very best until the war is won.

Now is the time to subscribe.

NATURAL GAS PUTS DOLLARS IN YOUR POCKET

There would be no natural gas industry in this area today if it were not for the initiative and enterprise of private firms like the United Gas Pipe Line Company and its associated producing and distributing companies. The United Companies built a complex network of pipe lines to link wellheads with markets, released millions of pent-up dollars in payments to royalty owners, taxes and payrolls. United Gas investments and operations benefit every family in Texas, in one way or another.

Willie Lives in an "Almost" Home

Willie Wells is one of many G.I.'s stationed overseas to keep the Peace. Not to forget them, let me describe a snapshot that he sent.

It's the inside of a house where Willie's quartered ... except the boys have fixed it up as much as possible to look like a typical American home. They've hung up pictures of their families, cultivated a stray puppy for a house pet.

And the snapshot shows Willie and his buddies sitting by their hearth, drinking friendly American beer and reading the hometown paper. "Almost like being back in Clover Corners," says the caption.

From where I sit, that "almost" packs a lot of meaning. Thousands of our boys are still overseas, trying to make their quarters homelike, even to the pet dog and the friendly glass of beer. Let's not forget to write them often—remind them that home is waiting—and it's not an "almost" home either.

Dog's Prestige At a New High

Dogs Win Added Respect For Contribution On War Front And Home Front

After 30 months of war the prestige of the dog in America is at a new high, states a report of the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City.

Principal reason for this, of course, is the outstanding contribution made by dogs on every front where Americans are fighting. They serve in many capacities of the armed services—as messengers, scout dogs, Red Cross dogs, pack dogs and pack dogs. Already the dogs have given their lives in the performance of their duties and in order to save the lives of men to whom they were assigned.

But America's dogs are serving in the home front equally well on the home front. Their companionship is a stimulus to morale in the home. They are helping fill that empty place in the family circle, and they are protecting homes from which men have gone to war. An estimated 42 per cent of America's dogs today.

Just how integral a part of the home the dog has become is indicated in a recent survey which showed that 42 per cent of America's dog owners feel their dogs mean more today than they did in peacetime. In addition to 50 per cent who said they had not changed their high opinion of their dogs. The same survey also sought to find out what owners would do if the production of dog foods were cut down. Fifty-eight per cent of the dog owners questioned said they would share the family rations with their dog, and an additional 38 per cent said they would keep their dog and make the best of it. Only an infinitesimal six-tenths of one per cent of dog owners said they would dispose of their dog.

America's experience with dogs as a morale factor closely parallels that of wartime England. After the war broke out in 1939, the British discouraged the keeping of canine pets. The undesirable effect this action had on the nation's morale—the British, like the Americans, are a great dog-loving people—soon led to a reversal of policy, and today the keeping of dogs in the British Isles is not only encouraged but their required food is specially provided for.

DOG'S EXERCISE

Regular Walks Will Keep Him And Owner In Shape

Coordinate your own exercise with that of your dog and you'll both be the better off for it, advises the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City.

The dog's health requires sunshine and fresh air as much as yours does. Swimming or jumping is wonderful for him if he enjoys it, but regular walking will keep him in good condition. Regularity in exercising is most important. It is far better to take him half a dozen blocks each day than half a dozen miles on Sundays. Extended walks should not be undertaken immediately after meals, and he should always be taken out on his leash. If he tends to put on weight, reduce his food intake or step up his exercise. If it is impossible for you to give him daily walking exercise, a device like that shown in the illustration will provide it for him in complete safety.

Not only your dog's size, but his temperament and the food he consumes have a bearing on the amount of exercise he should have. In primeval days the dog was forced to take a tremendous amount of exercise merely in finding his food. Under today's domesticated conditions he cannot possibly digest either the quantity or quality of food that he would in his wild state. More and more authorities are leaning to the belief that today red meat alone is not a suitable diet for the dog. Far better for him are the prepared, well-balanced high quality dog meals, rich in all essential food elements, to be found on the shelves of the corner grocery. A dog fed on such food receives complete nourishment and requires nothing else save water.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Minnie Wiemers, a bride of the month at the home of Geo. H. Wiemers, Wednesday, April 17th, from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.

The rooms were decorated with beautiful bouquets of roses, sweet-peas, lark-spurs, and amaryllis.

The honoree's chair and the little glass chairs, also the wagon were decorated in blue and white crepe paper.

While the Progressive March was played on the piano by Miss Lillie Lunn, the honoree, attractively gowned in pale blue, entered the room, preceded by her niece, the little Miss Evelyn Marie Wiemers, and little Miss Rita Jane Ulbrich dressed in red and white checked, trimmed in white eyelet, led the bride-to-be to her place of honor. After Miss Wiemers and the little Miss Wiemers and little Miss Ulbrich were seated the following toast was read by Mrs. Albert Bryant.

"To Minnie"

Friends and families are gathered from far and near, To honor Minnie, who to us is dear, To show our love as we bring a shower of wishes true, and a bushel load of gifts for you. We wish for you dear, both happiness and health, This you know is far better than wealth. How great it will be to own a real man

To do everything for you that he can. Now unto him, who shall stand by you Just be faithful, fond and true, Think not that romance is ended, That youth's curtain has descended, And love's pretty play is done; For it's only just begun. Marriage, little lady, Is love's sunny path and shady, Over which two hearts should wander Of each other growing fonder. As you stroll to each tomorrow, You will come to joy and sorrow And as faithful man and wife Read the troubled book of life. Bitter cares will some day find you, Closer, closer they will bind you, If together you will bear them Cares grow sweet, when lovers share them

Now, just remember Every year has its December Every rising sun its setting, Every life, its time of fretting, But keep faith when trouble treads And in joy you shall abide Never let your courage falter Never stoop to unbelieving Even when your heart is grieving Through what comes of wintry weather

Or disaster, stand together, Through life's fearful hours of night Love shall bring you to the light. Then the little Miss Wiemers and Miss Ulbrich presented the honoree with wagon-loads of gifts which were opened and passed to the guests for inspection and admiration. The bride-to-be in her own sweet way thanked her many friends for the lovely and useful gifts.

Mrs. Louis Gerdes then gave to each one present a slip of paper and asked each one to give an advice, and then gave them to the honoree and let her read them aloud.

Refreshments consisting of vanilla ice cream, macaroons and sugar cookies and gum drops as plate favors, were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Louis Gerdes, Mrs. Albert Bryant, Mrs. Edwin Wiemers, Mrs. Wesley Wiemers, Mrs. Clinton Wiemers, Mrs. Jack Ulbrich, Sr., Miss Lillie Muennink, and Miss Nellie Muennink.

Mrs. Clinton Wiemers had charge of the beautiful heart-shaped hand-painted bride's book, which is a gift of the

New Braunfels Celebrates 100th Birthday

Dam site on Comal River from which was derived power to run early flour and feed mills in the 19th century at New Braunfels.

Old print of Fort Sophienburg, now the site of Sophienburg Museum, on the heights above New Braunfels.

New Braunfels, Texas.—The old saying, "Much water has poured over the dam since, etc.," may well be applied to New Braunfels as the people of Comal County prepare to celebrate the 100th birthday of the county seat town. Water was important to Prince Solm when he and his followers from Braunsfels, Germany, settled at the junction of the short Comal River and the Guadalupe in 1845; water has been an important part in the growth of the community for a hundred years; water is a most important asset of the community today—and the dam has been here through it all.

The lazy Guadalupe and the more turbulent Comal furnish recreation and resort facilities to thousands of people. The historic Comal, called the "world's biggest little river," flows through beautiful Landa Park, once a watering place for early settlers, now a sportsman's paradise featuring a beautiful golf course, large outdoor swimming pool and recreation facilities for the multitudes.

A hundred years ago this watering place meant health and happiness. Water was important. They had no artesian wells. So the little band of settlers opened their homes and started their farms and ranches. Business followed. Then came industry. In a hundred years the community has grown to 9,000 people. Where Indians once sharpened their crude tools for war and livelihood, now stand wool mills, flour and feed mills, hosiery mills, textile mills, in a community that has not lost its fame as a resort center.

Early settlers paid first attention to milling, and the waters of the fast-flowing Comal, which now rises and ends inside the city limits, furnished the power. Then came Diesels. Then Diesels were pushed aside for electricity.

Modern New Braunfels now wants to pay tribute to those hardy pioneers who started it all in 1845. A planned centennial program for 1945 was tabled because of war. It was revived this year to coincide with the date New Braunfels obtained its charter from the new state of Texas. It will be held May 10, 11 and 12.

An expansive program is planned by a centennial board. Governor Coke Stevenson will open the program on Friday evening, May 10. Mass singing, entertainment and a street dance on the plaza will follow. Saturday, May 11, will be devoted to visiting various shrines and places of interest, and to the 89-year-old "Kiddies Parade and Kiddies Masquerade Ball." The youngsters expect to do a pioneer historic parade in miniature. Dances and other features will come Saturday night, with a huge fireworks display in Landa Park. Sunday, May 12, will find home-comers and visitors at church services in the morning. The afternoon will bring the big climax of the entire celebration, the fiesta parade of historic and decorative floats, bands and color. The parade is expected to take near two hours to pass the reviewing stand. More music, dancing and barbecue picnics will follow the parade.

The 19th annual convention of the South Texas Press Association convened in San Antonio last Friday and Saturday, with headquarters at the Gunter Hotel. Representing this paper at the conference Friday was the Editor and her guest, Mrs. Christine R. Mayberry. Program subjects for the morning session were "Employing Apprentices as Provided by the GI Bill of Rights"; "Local Agriculture or Farm and Ranch News"; "National Advertising"; and "Protecting My Town from Itinerant Solicitation and Advertising". At noon the two local representatives attended the luncheon in the Gunter Hotel at which the Carpenter Paper Co. were hosts. At 4 P. M. they witnessed the Battle of Flowers Parade from the steps of the Federal Building, with Postmaster Dan Quill as host to the newspaper folk. Friday festivities closed with a banquet at the Plaza Hotel, as guests of the Fiesta de San Jacinto Association and San Antonio Chamber of Commerce.

Major and Mrs. J. C. McIlvoy announce the birth of a daughter, Susan, April 30th in Brooke General Hospital, San Antonio. Major McIlvoy, who is stationed at McDill Field, Tampa, Florida, will arrive Saturday to visit his wife and their new daughter. They have an older son, Michael, who is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burgin. Mrs. McIlvoy is the former Helen Burgin.

F. M. Davis, Assistant Division engineer for the State Highway Department at Paris, Texas, came in Thursday afternoon for a brief visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Davis. He had been in attendance at a highway engineers' Short Course at A. and M. College for several days.

COUNTY HEALTH UNIT NOTES

With the incidence of measles more than sixty per cent higher than the seven year median, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a statement concerning the use of gamma globulin for protecting very young or frail children from an attack of this perennial childhood disease and its often serious complications.

"If you have a child less than five years old who has been exposed to measles, your family doctor may recommend giving him gamma globulin," Dr. Cox advised. "Through city, county or state health departments, doctors can obtain gamma globulin free to be used as they think advisable. Infants and children, whose health makes it inadvisable for them to suffer an attack of measles, may postpone the disease if gamma globulin is administered within eight days from the time of exposure."

The State Health Officer emphasized the fact that gamma globulin cannot give a child permanent protection against measles and added that the protection is ordinarily of about three weeks duration. However, there is no limit to the number of times it can be used, and a baby who is protected by it now can be protected by it again in June or July. Gamma globulin can go on shielding him against measles until he is old enough and strong enough to stand an attack without serious consequences.

During an outbreak of measles, Dr. Cox said that it is well to keep children under five years of age, and more especially frail children, from all other youngsters who might serve as sources of infection. Statistics show that nine-tenths of all measles deaths occur in children under five years of age.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF MEDINA COUNTY

I hereby call a meeting of all Precinct Chairmen of the County to convene in the District Court room of the courthouse in Hondo, at 3 o'clock P. M., Monday, May 6, 1946, for the purpose of devising ways and means of holding the Democratic primaries in Medina County this summer. All interested in making Democracy work at home as well as abroad are cordially invited to attend and lend your counsel.

June 15th will be the last day for candidates seeking County and Precinct offices to have their names placed on the primary ticket. Do not overlook this requirement.

STAGE SET FOR BENEFIT BARBECUE AND RODEO

Final arrangements have been made for the county-wide barbecue being held tomorrow in the Water-Works Park of Hondo, for the benefit of the Community Center. The ladies of the County Home Demonstration Clubs will serve a delectable barbecue lunch beginning at 11:30 A. M., and will be assisted by Girl Scouts and 4-H Club girls. The Club women are also making cakes to be sold on the grounds and the Hondo Lions Club will have charge of the soft-drink concession. Rev. M. J. Lorfing is chairman of the committee in charge of barbecuing the meat, and the F. F. A. boys, under supervision of T. D. Bridges and John McAnelly, will do the butchering. The H. D. Club ladies are preparing the "trimmings" to complete the luncheon menu and coffee, by arrangement with the H. and H. Coffee Co. by Marvin Grell, will be served. M. L. Mechler is in charge of table arrangements.

In the afternoon a radio broadcast originating in San Antonio will feature Medina County talent. Three prizes will be awarded winners in this radio program and winner of first prize will be eligible to compete with other winners in this series of radio programs, sponsored by Insulation Co. of San Antonio. This Company has also provided publicity for the barbecue, aided by Sonny Groff, who is holding the 2-day rodeo as a part of the benefit program. Five percent of the gate receipts of the rodeo will be turned over to the Center. Hondo High School is providing the loud speaker system for the barbecue grounds and F. J. Leinweber is doing the installing.

The Committee of the Community Center Council, composed of T. D. Bridges, Allen Webster, Rev. Lorfing, and Mrs. Christine R. Mayberry, and assisted by Sheriff Jack Fusselman, has made arrangements for donations of sheep for the barbecue and cash contributions.

Simpson had suddenly become keen on fishing.

"One day as he was preparing for a few hours on the river bank he turned to his wife and said: 'Maud, I hope you remembered to put the cooking outfit in my bag. I'll want to fry some fish I catch for my lunch.'"

She nodded.
"Oh, yes, dear," she replied; "and you'll find a tin of sardines in there as well."

LOTS OF FUN FOR ALL

Kathleen Norris Says:

The Much Younger Husband

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"What can I do to hold this young husband of mine, whom despite all his unkindnesses, I love so passionately?"

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THE problem of Marigold, aged 39, is that of a clever, successful woman who has married a man 12 years her junior. They have been man and wife for less than two years, and already Larry shows signs of restlessness. Marigold is frantic with helplessness and despair, all the more acute because she keeps everything bottled up inside her, and manages to keep a serene exterior before the watching eyes of the world.

"When we were married," writes Marigold, "I was a different woman. I am healthy, an out-of-door sort of type, and at 37 I looked at least 10 years less than my age. Some years ago my parents left me a small farm; I was just home after glorious college years when they were killed in an accident, and idly, in the first summer of loneliness and grief, I secured a few small-girl boarders. From this grew my school, a school for so-called difficult and problem cases. I have been unbelievably successful, not only in a financial sense, but in the fact that I love this work, it is easy and natural to me, and repays me richly in friendships with children and parents.

A Very Handsome Man.

"Larry came to me three years ago as physical culture director. I knew he was less experienced and less useful than he had represented himself; I built him up. We studied his work together, he improved, he became a different human being. He is magnificently made and very handsome, and I fell in love with him long before he did with me—if he ever did. We were married, and immediately Larry began his attentions to other women. He opened adult classes in gym work, long country hikes that took place during hours when I was not free. After the first weeks of blissfully deceiving myself I saw that no one woman ever could hold him, but I hoped to be his rock of safety and understanding through all the storms of his undisciplined nature.

"After the loss of my baby a year ago I was ill for a long time. Not sick in bed, but rather dragging myself about through my school duties, and not able to keep control as I should. Larry drew large sums from our joint account, and on one occasion signed my name to a sale of property without my authorization. At that time he moved to another room, and he has not returned to mine.

"Now he tells me he wants to be freed, to drive about the country looking up pupils for a much enlarged school, and dreadful as it sounds I am afraid that he would not be alone; I think I know the charming young companion of 19 who would accompany him, although he tries to quiet my suspicions by saying that Miss M— has an agency for children's books and would be stopping in many of the towns he would visit, so that accidental encounters would be very natural.

WINNING HIM BACK

When a woman marries a man much younger than herself, she is taking a chance. This is especially the case when he is handsome and flirtatious, as is Marigold's husband. She is 39 now, 12 years older than Larry. They met when he joined the faculty at Marigold's school for girls.

Soon after the marriage Larry began paying attention to other, and younger, women. He has drawn considerable money from their joint account, used Marigold's car for dates, and in general behaved in a way no good husband would.

Now he wants to go on a long tour of the country "to obtain new students for the school." Marigold suspects that he will be accompanied by a pretty girl of 19. With all his shortcomings, Marigold still loves Larry "passionately." She asks Miss Norris how she can "hold" her errant husband.

Miss Norris tells her that the best thing Marigold can do is to try to pretend she doesn't care what Larry does. If she busies herself with her own interests in the school, Larry will probably come back to her in due time.

and clean-looking, and my yellow hair is untouched by drugs or grayness yet. There must be something to me; the children love me, and so do their families. I am well again now, I'm not ready to be a broken, crying, wakeful failure as a wife. Help me to get back again."

Don't Take Him Seriously.

Help, my dear Marigold, has to come from within. When you make yourself a whole woman again, absorbed in other things than Larry's physical perfections and love conquests, you'll get him back. When you are always happily busy, amused, planning picnics for your charges, dressing with the old charm, enjoying the same old books and music, Larry'll see you as he used to see you.

Stop the crying, reproaching, lying awake nights, analyzing. Nothing is so fatal to married peace as the long "reasonable" talks in which a man and woman hurt each other's feelings deliberately and systematically. Forget Larry. Yes, forget him. Listen to his complacent recitals absent-mindedly; have other things to think about. If he goes off with the car, see that he hasn't too much money. Suggest casually that he find a job as physical culture director in some other school. Explain that his flirtations are undermining yours. Laugh about it. Warn prospective students that he is youthfully amorous.

In other words, become yourself again, a charming, capable, successful woman, who knows how to live and help small unfortunates live on happier terms, who dresses well and has many interests. The sooner Larry drifts away to impose upon some other heart-hungry older woman, the sooner you'll regain your moral, mental, psychological and physical balance.

Using Up Dry Bread

Dry bread has many uses. It makes good french toast, hot milk toast, bread and custard pudding and baked fruit scallops. Turn odds and ends of bread into a supply of dry crumbs that every thrifty cook likes to keep handy for coating foods in frying and for topping baked dishes and stuffing vegetables or meat.

There are bread crumb specials too — pastry like cream pies and crumb cake and cookies. Toasted crumbs make good breakfast food.

RUSS DON'T LIKE U. S. A.

WASHINGTON. — Inside reason why the Russians are pulling wires to have the capital of the United Nations moved back to sleepy Geneva is that American public opinion has been too powerful a champion of the smaller nations.

So the Russians have been working behind the scenes to corral votes in favor of the Geneva transfer and can count on Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Poland and France. However, they can't count on the British, who once favored a European capital, but are now 100 per cent sold that American opinion is one of their best allies.

The Russians also can't count on the Latin Americans. In the old days, Pan-American diplomats loved lolling in Paris most of the time and turning up in Geneva a few days of the week. Today, however, Paris is one of the most uncomfortable places in the world, Geneva is short of food, and New York is far more pleasurable.

The Russians, who originally favored an American city as the U. N. capital, now consider this a serious mistake. They dislike the fact that American newspapers publish columns and columns of front-page news on every move made by the Russians and they figure that American newsmen at Geneva would sit drowsily in the Swiss cafes drinking beer, or spend week-ends in the Swiss Alps.

In Europe, they also believe, no photographer or newspaper would have the energy to trail Ambassador Gromyko on his famous and circuitous trip around New York City when he almost stopped in at the Security Council meeting, but didn't.

If the Iranian question had been discussed at Geneva, instead of New York, the Russians figure, it never would have attracted so much attention and the Soviet would have come off with a complete victory.

NO ARMY RACE PREJUDICE

A Negro, former master sergeant in the army, Marion F. Green, testified before General Doolittle's "caste system" board the other day, that there was little evidence of racial prejudices and discrimination in the army. When General Doolittle inquired about this, Sergeant Green replied:

"Colored soldiers found some resentment against them when they first joined the army, but this was quickly ironed out after a few months of training. In February, 1941, we had some fights and riots while I was stationed at Camp Livingstone, Louisiana. However, by the time we finished training, everybody was getting along fine. I encountered no racial bias whatever overseas."

The ex-G.I. also suggested that saluting of officers be optional when enlisted men are off duty and off the post, to which Lt. Gen. Troy Middleton, now an executive of Louisiana State university, countered: "Wouldn't optional saluting such as you propose tend to tear down discipline?"

"Not necessarily, general," replied Green. If a man does something to merit respect, he will get that respect whether he is a civilian or an army officer."

POWER AND NYLON LOBBIES

Many congressmen will vote against dynamic Speaker Sam Rayburn in a secret committee session, but don't have the nerve to stand up and oppose him on the floor of the house. Very soon, however, Democrats who have fallen for the beguiling promises of the giant power lobby are going to face the latter test.

Sam Rayburn really has fire in his eye when he talks about the power lobby. And today that lobby ranks with the real estate buttonholers as one of the most potent in Capitol Hill, has even gone to the extent of dangling nylons before the wives of congressmen in order to win votes against the government's southwest power authority in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and southern Missouri.

The question at issue is whether the government can construct its own electric lines to distribute electric power from the Denison dam on the Texas-Oklahoma border and the Norfolk, Ark., dam. Without such power lines, the government merely generates the power but can't sell it. The power lobby wants to prevent this sale.

So far, the power lobby's technique has been successful with the appropriations subcommittee, which knifed the construction of the distributing lines. Cong. Ben Jensen of Iowa, Henry Dworshak of Idaho, Robert Jones of Ohio, and W. F. Norrell of Arkansas were the gentlemen reported to have fallen for the wiles of the lobby.

However, when the bill comes out on the floor of congress, Sam Rayburn, together with the dean of congress, Adolph Sabath of Illinois, plans to stage a real battle.

Tailored Slacks and Vests Are Easily Made from Men's Suits

By Ertta Haley

IF YOU can persuade your son or husband to part with that old shiny suit, you will have the makings of a nice slack suit right in hand. So often suits may become ill-fitting for the men folk. Sleeves may be too short, trouser legs not quite long enough. In some cases, the vest loses all use because it is too tight to wear.

With expert cutting and fitting, many of these old suits can be successfully remodeled into a smart slack suit for the teen-aged girl.

If there is a great deal of fitting to be done, it would be best to buy a pattern to assure accurate cutting. If you are expert at cutting and fitting, make up a pattern of your own. If there is little fitting to be done, rip the trousers out completely and trim them as necessary.

In woolen fabrics it is essential to allow a generous half inch for seams on all edges beyond the stitching lines. Mark the paper patterns to indicate the sections to be cut from lining fabric and mark to show the lengthwise thread.

In making the slacks or trousers, it is especially important to have them hang properly. By no means should they be too tight, as this will not only give a poor appearance, but it will cause the fabric to pull apart easily.

Remodel a man's old suit . . .

Lay the pattern on the fabric correctly, making sure that both are on a smooth surface. The machine will need some adjusting too, before you attack the sewing problem. Men's suits are made of thicker material than you ordinarily use for sewing and the stitches will have to be adjusted to the weight of the fabric. When you stitch over three or four thicknesses, try the stitch on scraps before actually beginning.

Tailoring the slacks is a real challenge as it requires a different technique from the sewing on ordinary fabrics. Be generous with pins and basting. It's hard to rip out stitches on material of this type, and it's a good idea to be right before you put those finishing stitches in the slacks. The slacks will have to be

Spring Fashion Notes

Mother and daughter outfits have long been popular, but now we are also beginning to see matching suits for the younger and older brother.

With skirts full and sleeves inflated right now, waists, of course, look smaller and smaller. Tiny midriffs are played up, some of them even being laced like a real corset. Waistlines are dipping lower over rounded hips.

Into a trim vest.

machine-stitched at all points, and the stitches should be as short as is practical.

If the seams on the inside of the slacks are made as neatly as possible, the garment will hang well and look well. Work on a flat surface and press each seam before it joins another. The seams should come together without stretching or pulling.

I can't stress pressing too highly when working with wool. All the seams need constant pressing to assure good fit and workmanship, and the final finishing touch to the slacks should be a complete pressing.

Cutting and Making The Vest From a Suit

If you are making a vest for a girl's slack suit from a man's suit vest, it will be necessary to cut the vest apart at shoulder and underarm seams. Then fit the front and back vest to the figure. The second button from the bottom should come to the waistline.

The seams are then pinned directly on top of the shoulders so that the waistline is in the above position. The vest will extend away from the figure at the front armhole. Draw this excess down to the underarm seam and make a dart into the underarm seam.

Shoulder seams should be marked after taking the vest off the figure, and also the side seams on the front vest. This is done with basting. Underarm darts both in the vest and lining should be marked. Pin both fronts together. Cut off at the shoulder and sides allowing generously (about an inch) for seams.

The darts in the vest and lining should be stitched separately. Slash darts in the vest and press open.

Turn under one-half inch on vest and lining at shoulders and underarm seams, ripping back outside the stitching when necessary. Baste the edges together and press. Stitch close to the edge on the machine.

A knitted back for this type of vest does not take much work and will make a very attractive outfit for the girl. If desired, a calot can also be made for the slack and vest suit, in the same color as the knitted back.

How to Reclaim Wool

When hand-knit wool sweaters are no longer usable, the wool from them can be easily reclaimed if the garment is washed and dried thoroughly. Do not try to unravel a sweater which is knit too closely. Use the following method for ripping hand-knit sweaters.

1. Wind the strands of wool around a board, making sure that the end is always visible. Continue until you have a long enough piece, and then break off the wool.
2. Tie the starting and finishing ends together on the board. At four equal distances apart, tie a white thread around the wool strands on the board, and then remove the wool from the board. Repeat these steps until the sweater is completely unraveled.
3. Dip the skein of wool into warm water until thoroughly soaked and then squeeze excess water out carefully. Tie a weight to the bottom of the wet skein to remove kinks, and then hang skein to dry. Do not expose to sun; dry in any airy place. When dry, wind into balls. It is then ready for knitting.

MERLE OBERON has changed her appearance once in her movie career; when she shot to stardom as Anne Boleyn, with Charles Laughton also making his bow to American movie audiences as Henry the VIII, she had an exotic kind of beauty. Ensnared in Hollywood after the British picture had brought her fame, she changed her type, became just a very beautiful young woman. But she'd like to change it again, for at least one role; says she wants to be really homely, and play one of those heavy, dramatic roles that would bring her a new kind of fame. Maybe some day she'll get her wish. Meanwhile, her new picture is "Night in Paradise," for Universal, with Turhan Bey.

Lucille Ball, who plays a secretary in "The Dark Corner," doesn't have to fake the scenes in which she types. She used to be a stenographer — says she hated it so that she decided on the starvation-to-model route to stage and screen.

Bandleader Harry James has turned romantic actor; in 20th Century-Fox's "Do You Love Me?" he vies with Dick Haymes for the favor of Maureen O'Hara. He says his success will be entirely due to the coaching he gets at home from his wife, Betty Grable.

Those Goldwyn Girls who are touring the country are realists. Said one, "We're too short for show girls, we're not the cute type." Some of them feel that trying for dramatic roles is too hard — it means working hard with coaches, going to bed early every night, exercising, dieting, struggling. They figure being fashion models at $125 a week is a lot easier and more fun.

"The Theater Guild on the Air" is required listening for 200 students at Michigan State college; as a part of their course in radio education, they prepare short, critical reviews of the Sunday night productions, over ABC.

Radio programs have given away everything from live goats to small fortunes; now the sponsor of the Woody Herman show on ABC Friday nights will give the band to the winner of a contest. On June 21 the band will play in the winner's home, on the front porch or the auditorium of the local high school — if you win and want to give the band away you can still keep the thousand dollar additional prize.

Two Walt Disney cartoon characters are regular members of the "Amos 'n' Andy" program. They are Clarence Nash (Donald Duck) who does the theme whistle that opens and closes the program, and Jim Basquette, who is "Uncle Remus" in the new Disney series.

All that Whitey Ford asks of a new suit is that it looks old. Recently the NBC "Grand Ole Opry's" Duke of Paducah was lucky enough to get a new "radio suit," his first replacement in 14 years. It's an exact duplicate of his old tight-legged, pinch-backed, bay-window revealing green one, but allow's a little more leeway for the pounds he's put on as the years slipped by.

John Wayne, co-star of RKO's romantic comedy, "Without Reservations," is a charter member of a yacht club which stipulates that its members must have no yachts. It's the Emerald Bay Yacht Club, and the activities of its members are confined solely to writing each other insulting memos and devising imaginary minutes of meetings that should have been held but weren't.

Alex Scourby of "The Right to Happiness" has recorded over 100 talking books for the blind, with the approval of the Library of Congress. . . Charles Irving, "Young Dr. Malone," admits that one of his hobbies is baking cookies. . . First time in 12 years that Johnny Weismuller's had a chance to wear clothes on the screen in "Swamp Fire"—but throughout the first half of the picture he does nothing fancier than jeans and an old work shirt.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS

by Lynn Chambers

Cookies made from the new emergency flour tend to be darker in color but they can be made acceptably if directions are followed.

Emergency Flour Meets Tests for Breads and Cakes

Just what does 80 per cent extraction flour mean?

How will it affect our own home baking? How can it be used? These are some of the questions you're probably asking yourself as the packages of emergency flour appear on store shelves.

Well, let's start with the first question. Eighty per cent extraction means that instead of the 72 per cent and 28 pounds of animal feed that the miller has been getting from every 100 pounds of wheat he will now get 80 pounds of wheat to be used as flour and 20 pounds as animal feed.

The new flour is slightly gray in color instead of the creamy white which we are accustomed to seeing. The color is due partially to the parts of the wheat kernel which naturally contains some color or pigment.

Emergency flour is considerably better than what we first had anticipated. To date, in tests which have been made in actual home baking, the flour has behaved satisfactorily. In biscuits and breads, the color of the finished product has a slight grayish cast, but in other baked products such as muffins, cookies and cakes, the use of eggs tends to push the gray into the background.

As for pie crust, you'll find that the new flour gives pastry a much better color than the flour we formerly used. It seems that in pastry, the crust comes out a more golden color than before.

How to Use.

You will be seeing new recipes in this column from time to time giving you tips on how to use the emergency flour. However, if you want to convert your old recipes, a safe rule to follow is to take 2 tablespoons out of each 1 cup of flour that the recipe requires.

In using the emergency flour with baking powder, soda or sour milk,

Lynn Says:

Conserve Fats and Oils: Better use can be made of drippings — those fats that cook out of roasts, bacon and sausage. While the fats are still liquid, strain them through cheesecloth and store them in a cool place. They are especially good for seasoning vegetables; they may be used for gravies and sauces and even some baking, in highly spiced cookies and cakes.

Serve fried foods to save on fat. If you do fry, use the shallow fat method or the oven.

Save the fats and oils which have been used for frying and re-use them whenever possible. Otherwise, give the fats to your butcher.

Render the excess fat on meats and use it either at home or turn it into the fat salvage.

Dried bread crumbs can be used for puddings such as apple or peach betty, for dipping meats and fish, or other foods that are baked or fried.

If you have dried cake, crumb it and use for a cake crumb crust for pie. Mix the crumbs with a little melted butter and sugar and press into a pie plate.

Now that you've been asked to save wheat, do the following things to save on bread:

Serve creamed meat on top of mashed potatoes instead of toast or biscuits.

For lunch, serve open-faced sandwiches instead of the closed variety.

Top meat casseroles with crumbled potato chips; use mashed potatoes or corn meal mush for topping meat and vegetable casseroles.

it seems advisable to use a minimum amount of stirring and mixing after the flour has been added. The rule which you have known so long, "Mix only until flour is moistened," as far as quick breads are concerned applies particularly to this new flour.

In making yeast-leavened products, handle the batters and doughs lightly, especially after the first rising. Another must is to let the product rise not so much, so start working on it just before it doubles itself.

Texture in Cakes.

For the emergency, you'll have to forego your elaborate, velvety textured cakes. Simple cakes—the two egg type—are quite acceptable made with the new flour, but the texture is not as soft and fine as you are accustomed to. You see, the flour is just not as soft and fine as the bleached flours which we recommend for really fine cakes. In addition to the simple white or gold cakes, you may also use the flour for devil's food or chocolate cakes and spice cakes.

Thickening Qualities.

For all practical purposes, the new flour has the same thickening quality as regular all-purpose flour. Use it the same way as you would our regular flour in thickening gravies, sauces, stews, pie and cake fillings.

Another point which it is well to remember in regard to the new flour is that it will not keep up well as regular flour. Don't stock up on it! Buy limited quantities, but buy them more often.

The same storage that we give regular flour is doubly important in this case. A covered container is recommended, and it's best to keep this in a cool, dry place.

Food Value.

Some people have said that the emergency flour is a fine thing because it has more "good in it." Well, of course, the bran in the flour is nourishing because it gives us more thiamin, niacin, riboflavin and iron than regular flour. It gives us only about half as much as enriched white flour, however.

Pie crust made from the new flour browns more readily even though you will need a few drops more of ice water to make it hold together.

Gold Cake.

2 cups emergency wheat flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift together dry ingredients.

Cream shortening, add sugar. Cream thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition, about 1 minute. Combine milk and vanilla. Add flour and milk alternately to creamed mixture, beating after each addition. Pour into two well-greased layer cake tins and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 30 to 35 minutes.

Drop Cookies.

2 cups emergency wheat flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift together dry ingredients. Cream shortening, add sugar and beat in egg white. Add dry ingredients and blend in ½ cup chopped nuts, if desired. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet, allowing room for spreading. Bake in a moderate oven 12 to 15 minutes.

Adjournment of Congress Will Give Breathing Spell

WITH the Easter recess out of the way, as things are shaping up now, congress may adjourn about August 1 to give its members a chance to build their political fences for the November elections. All representatives and a third of the senators must face the voters this fall.

It may be a good thing, for with congress in recess until after the first of the year, the nation can get down to work for real production without the disturbing influences of proposed legislation in the immediate offing.

Furthermore, everything congress has tackled this year has been approached from the political angle. The members have been loath to take a stand on any controversial subject which might change a vote one way or another. As a result, the administration program has been hamstrung . . . continuation of social reforms has been delayed and domestic legislation has been pigeonholed, made innocuous or just held in committees without action.

Between now and August 1 important things may be expected to happen. President Truman's popularity, at bottom as he finished his first year in office, will be on the upgrade from now on. Increased production of consumer goods, holding the line on inflation, relaxing of price controls from time to time as scarcity of goods eases, continued heavy demand for farm products at good prices, and a generally satisfying foreign policy, all will tend to make for greater good feeling toward the President. The low point was reached during the senate hearing on the Pauley nomination.

Little Drastic Legislation

Congress will extend the draft with curtailments on age limits, no fathers, increased pay and shorter service; the veterans housing bill may become law, with some subsidy included, and price ceilings on new homes, probably not on existing homes; the President's peacetime military training bill likely will not be enacted this year. There is every likelihood, despite the President's demand and his castigation of navy lobbying, that the army-navy merger will not be voted, at least until after congress reconvenes. In spite of opposition of the farm organizations, food subsidies may be extended until January 1st; OPA will be continued but with great trimming of its power. The Pace bill making farm labor a part of the parity price likely will not get through the senate although it has been passed twice by the house. The minimum wage bill, meaningless in its present form with the Russell parity amendment, will be vetoed, as announced by the President.

Another fair employment practices bill, beaten in the senate by a southern filibuster, likely will come up in the house but will not get far. Amendments to the social security laws may not be considered and neither will various health measures, such as a compulsory tax for doctors and hospital bills. There may be some additional appropriations for public health and hospitals in federal grants to be matched by the states. The fifty million dollar school lunch bill passed by the house likely will be upped in the senate to provide more money, up to a hundred million.

The power lobby has effectively bottled up the various regional authority bills for the Missouri valley, the Columbia river valley and others, and in all probability there will be no vote on any of these measures this year.

Will Approve British Loan

Our guess is that the British loan will be given congressional approval after some of the opposition congressmen get their spleen on the question out of their systems.

And there's another important measure, one which the President has several times pointed to, and that's the matter of Presidential succession. President Truman is planning a trip to the Philippines on July 4 . . . he is planning other forays about the country, but he appears to be a healthy individual, so the congress will probably let action on this legislation slide also, in spite of the uncertainty which now exists over legal succession to the Presidency.

There is a rash of labor reform bills and some in mild form stand some chance of passage. But most assuredly there will be no drastic anti-labor legislation before the elections in November. That would indeed be fool-hardy from a political standpoint.

In the meantime there are rumors around Washington that Sec. Clinton Anderson will resign his job as head of USDA. From all the information, however, that your Home Town Reporter can obtain, the secretary will not resign, although he probably does feel like it.
